Document Description : This three-page document is an Interview Report of an interview with a CIA employee that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation. The document bears the classification SECRET and the markings for Secure Compartmentalized Information. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, this statement was made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege. The report also contains the handwritten notes of a reviewer. These notes contain the impressions, analysis, and internal deliberations of the reviewer, and are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This 5-page document consists of a two one-page routing slips and a 3-page memorandum. The document is dated November 4, 2003. The memorandum is from the National Security Advisor to senior officials.

The document is withheld in its entirety based on FOIA exemptions b(2), b(3), and b(5). Portions of this document are also exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949.

The document is also exempt pursuant to exemption (b)(5) because the document comprises analysis and recommendations of executive branch officials regarding a specific policy issue. This document also contains confidential legal advice that was requested and prepared in the course of internal governmental deliberations, and for the purpose of providing advice to decisionmakers with respect to a particular policy issue. It therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege. The document also contains the handwritten notes of a CIA employee. Those notes reflect the internal thoughts, impressions, and analysis of agency personnel and are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege.

This document reflects information or recommendations authored or solicited and received by the President's senior advisors in connection with a decision, or potential decision, to be made by the President. The document is therefore properly withheld in full pursuant to the presidential communications privilege.

Finally, the routing slips contained within the document are withheld in full pursuant to exemptions (b)(2) and (b)(3), as it represents a document solely created pursuant to internal CIA administrative practices and consisting of administrative and organizational information.

Document Description :

Document Description : This three-page document consists of a two-page memorandum responding to a request of the Office of Inspector General and a one-page containing filing identifiers and routing information. The memorandum bears the classification mark SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2) and b(3).

The first two pages consist of a memorandum from a senior DO officer to the Inspector General. This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities, as well as foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

The last page contains internal filing information. This information is withheld on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2), and b(3). The two pages primarily consist of internal distribution information such as filing identifiers, origination markings, handling instructions, and other internal administrative information which is protected from disclosure by exemption b(2). In addition, some of these markers and routing codes would disclose internal organizational data, the name of CIA personnel, and other information that is properly withheld under exemptions b(1) and b(3), as explained above.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This document consists of a one-page cover page and an eight-page memorandum for the record describing a closed congressional hearing. The document bears the classification TOP SECRET and markings for Secure Compartmentalized Information. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2), b(3), and b(5).

The first page is a one-page cover memorandum which simply denotes the classification of the attached memorandum. This page merely contains administrative information of no public value, and is therefore withheld pursuant to exemption b(2).

The next eight pages are a memorandum for the record describing a meeting of senior officials. This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities, as well as foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

This document contain the recommendations, analyses, and assessments of senior Administration officials, and it was prepared to inform the deliberations of senior Administration officials. This document is protected by the deliberative process privilege and is properly withheld according to exemption b(5).

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of this document that can be released.

Document Description : This five-page document is an OIG Memorandum to the File which contains an NCS cable from the field to Headquarters. The last page is blank. It bears the classification mark SECRET. This document is withheld in full based on exemptions b(1), b(2), and b(3)

The distribution information on the cable within the memo is withheld on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2), and b(3). The first half-page primarily consists of internal distribution information such as filing identifiers, routing codes, handling instructions, origination markings, and other internal administrative information which is protected from disclosure by exemption b(2). In addition, some of these markers and routing codes would disclose internal organizational data, the location of CIA facilities overseas, and other information that is properly withheld under exemptions b(1) and b(3), as described more fully below.

The entire document, including some of the administrative information described above, is also withheld on the basis of exemption b(1). This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and methods, as well as foreign relations and foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this information would reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence methods and activities. The document also reveals CIA cryptonyms, the location of CIA stations, and foreign activities of the CIA. Disclosure of this information would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

For similar reasons, this document is exempt from disclosure under exemption b(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. In addition, this document contains information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, functions, and names that are properly withheld under exemption b(3), pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This seven-page memorandum concerns an investigation into an intelligence operation by the Office of the Inspector General. It bears the classification mark SECRET and additional markings denoting Sensitive Compartmentalized Information. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), and b(5).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. Document Description : This three-page document consists of two one-page filing identifiers and a one page memorandum. The memorandum appears to be incomplete. The memorandum bears the classification mark TOP SECRET and additional markings denoting Sensitive Compartmentalized Information. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2), b(3), and b(5).

The first two pages contain internal filing information. This information is withheld on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2), and b(3). The two pages primarily consist of internal distribution information such as filing identifiers, origination markings, handling instructions, and other internal administrative information which is protected from disclosure by exemption b(2). In addition, some of these markers and routing codes would disclose internal organizational data, the name of CIA personnel, and other information that is properly withheld under exemptions b(1) and b(3), as explained above.

The last page is the first page of a memorandum from the Inspector General to the Director of Central Intelligence. This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities, as well as foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

This document is also withheld in full on the basis of exemption b(5). The memorandum discusses policy issues under consideration within the executive branch, and includes analysis and recommendations. It therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This four-page memorandum concerns an investigation into an intelligence operation by the Office of the Inspector General. It bears the classification mark SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), and b(5).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities, as well as foreign activities of the United States Government. The document also reveals CIA cryptonyms, the location of a CIA station, and the activities of that station. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

This document is also withheld in full on the basis of exemption b(5). The memorandum discusses policy issues under consideration within the executive branch, and includes analysis and recommendations. It therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This document consists of a six-page memorandum for the record regarding a closed congressional hearing. The document bears the classification TOP SECRET and markings for Secure Compartmentalized Information. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2), b(3), and b(5).

This document is a memorandum for the record describing a meeting of senior officials. This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and sources and methods. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities, as well as foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

Document Description : This six-page document is a draft Interview Report of an interview with a CIA employee that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation. The document bears the classification SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, this statement was made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, the document contains handwritten notes indicating that it is a draft and contains handwritten line edits. Thus, the document represents internal agency deliberations and is withheld in full pursuant to the deliberative process privilege. This document also contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This fourteen-page document is an Interview Report of an interview with a CIA employee that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation. The document bears the classification TOP SECRET and markings denoting Sensitive Compartmentalized Information. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, filing information/instructions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA organizational components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, this statement was made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This ten-page document is an Interview Report of an interview with a CIA employee that was taken during the course of an OIG investigation. The document bears the classification SECRET. This document is withheld in full on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(3), b(5), b(6), b(7)(c) and b(7)(d).

This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with sections 1.4(c) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities, sources and methods, as well as foreign activities and the foreign relations of the United States Government. Disclosure of this document could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence sources, methods, and activities. The document also reveals the location of CIA stations and the activities of those stations. Disclosure of this document would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

This document is similarly exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. In addition, the names of CIA employees making statements to the Office of Inspector General are withheld pursuant to Section 17(e)(3) of the CIA Act of 1949.

This document also contains statements from a person who gave those statements to the Office of Inspector General under an expectation of confidentiality. OIG regulations state that as a matter of policy OIG does not disclose the identities of persons who speak to OIG or the substance of their statements, unless "such disclosure is determined to be necessary for the full reporting of a matter or the fulfillment of other OIG or Agency responsibilities." Therefore, this statement was made under circumstances where confidentiality could reasonably be inferred. These statements are both privileged and confidential statements made in the course of an intelligence investigation. Thus, this report is withheld in full under FOIA exemptions b(5) and b(7)(d). In addition, this document contains the past impressions, assessments, recommendations and other analysis of the interviewee with respect to the events recounted to the Interviewer, as well as new recommendations and assessments. These portions of the interview report are properly withheld pursuant to the deliberative process privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

Similarly, portions of this document are withheld pursuant to exemption b(7)(c). The document contains personal information regarding the interviewee. Release of this information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

Document Description : This document is a three-page email train discussing a policy issue. The document is dated December 8, 2003 and bears the classification SECRET.

This document is withheld in its entirety based on FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and (b)(5).

The document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would reveal intelligence sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States government, whose disclosure reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

The document is also exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949.

The document is also exempt in its entirety pursuant to exemption (b)(5). The email discusses a policy issue under consideration within the executive branch, and outlines the recommendations and proposals of the agency personnel discussing the issue. This information therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege. Portions of this email also discuss the confidential recommendations and advice of CIA attorneys based on facts provided by their clients. This advice was given in confidence and has been held in confidence, and it is properly withheld pursuant to the attorney-client privilege under exemption b(5).

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This document is a two-page email train summarizing a meeting on a policy issue. The last e-mail contains comments and line edits of the original summary. The document is dated August 5, 2003 and bears the classification TOP SECRET.

This document is withheld in its entirety based on FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and (b)(5).

The document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would reveal intelligence sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States government, whose disclosure reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security.

The document is also exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949.

The document is also exempt in its entirety pursuant to exemption (b)(5). The email discusses a policy issue under consideration within the executive branch, and outlines the recommendations and proposals of the meeting participants. This information therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege. The email also contains a draft summary and edits of that summary, which are also properly withheld under exemption b(5).

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This document is a two-page email train summarizing a request from the General Counsel and OGC attorney response to that request. The document is dated October 6, 2003 and bears the classification SECRET.

This document is withheld in its entirety based on FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and (b)(5).

The document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would reveal intelligence sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States government, whose disclosure reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to the national security.

The document is also exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949.

The document is also exempt in its entirety pursuant to exemption (b)(5). The email discusses legal issues under consideration within the executive branch, and outlines the confidential recommendations and analysis of OGC attorneys. This information therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, as well as confidential communications between CIA attorneys and their clients. This information is properly withheld under the deliberative process and attorney-client privileges.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description: This document is an eleven-page email train discussing intelligence operations. The document is dated October 13, 2004 and bears the classification TOP SECRET.

This document is withheld in its entirety based on FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and (b)(5).

The document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure by exemption (b)(1) because it would reveal intelligence sources and methods, as well as foreign activities of the United States government, whose disclosure reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security.

The document is also exempt from disclosure by exemption (b)(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. Information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, names, employee numbers, employee telephone numbers, functions, and titles or other organizational identifiers of CIA components is also withheld under (b)(3) pursuant to Section 6 of the Central Intelligence Act of 1949.

The document is also exempt in its entirety pursuant to exemption (b)(5). The email discusses a policy issue under consideration within the executive branch, and outlines the recommendations and proposals of the persons involved in the discussion. The email also discusses a draft. This information therefore reveals internal deliberations of government officials, which are properly withheld under the deliberative process privilege. This document also contains the confidential legal advice of CIA attorneys and their clients. Thus, portions of the document are also withheld pursuant to the attorney-client privilege.

Portions of this document are also withheld under exemption b(6). This document contains information that applies to a particular, identifiable individual. Disclosure of this information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Thus, those portions are withheld pursuant to exemption b(6).

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.

Document Description : This 2-page document is a NCS cable, dated August 6, 2003, and it bears the classification mark SECRET. This cable consists of one and one half pages of distribution information and three paragraphs of text. This document is withheld in full based on exemptions b(1), b(2), and b(3)

The distribution information is withheld on the basis of exemptions b(1), b(2), and b(3). The first page and a half primarily consists of internal distribution information such as filing identifiers, routing codes, handling instructions, origination markings, and other internal administrative information which is protected from disclosure by exemption b(2). In addition, some of these codes would disclose information such as internal organizational data, the location of CIA facilities overseas, and other information that is properly withheld under exemptions b(1) and b(3), as described more fully below.

The entire document, including some of the administrative information described above, is also withheld on the basis of exemption b(1). This document contains information that has been classified in accordance with Sections 1.4(c) and (d) of Executive Order 12958, and is protected from disclosure because it would tend to reveal intelligence activities and methods, as well as foreign relations and foreign activities of the United States Government. Disclosure of this information would reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security. In particular, the document tends to reveal certain intelligence methods and activities. The document also reveals CIA cryptonyms, the location of CIA stations, and foreign activities of the CIA. Disclosure of this information would reveal information that is currently and properly classified.

For similar reasons, this document is exempt from disclosure under exemption b(3) pursuant to Section 102A(i)(1) of the National Security Act of 1947. In addition, this document contains information about CIA official titles, internal organizational data, functions, and names that are properly withheld under exemption b(3), pursuant to section 6 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

There is no meaningful, reasonably segregable portion of the document that can be released.
